PROPERTY OWNERS TO GET REFUND ON PAVING TAX

At the meeting of the city commissioners held this morning, a recommendation by City Auditor A. F. Larson, calling for the payment to the J. P. O'Neill Construction company of $765.81, representing 15 per cent of the cost of the work done on paving district number 10, which was kept back as a guarantee, was allowed.

City Engineer Tracy recommended that there should be returned to property owners on Washington avenue, between Ogden river and Twelfth street, the sum of $622.98, being the difference between the estimated cost of the paving done there, and the actual cost, figures for which are as follows:

Estimated cost $20,248.46
Actual cost 19,625.48
Difference $ 622.98

METER PROBLEM IS TO BE CONSIDERED BY COMMITTEE

Irrigation matters, which are declared by President D. D. McKay of the Weber county farm bureau, to have far reaching results, will be discussed at the meeting of the Weber county irrigation committee that will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the offices of the farm bureau in the Federal building.

The report of the committee that has been making water filings for Weber county will be made to the general committee.

Concealed Weapon Causes Arrest of a Stranger

G. Herrera, a stranger, was arrested yesterday afternoon by local police officers near Twentieth street and Pacific avenue for carrying a concealed weapon without the permission of the chief of police or the mayor.

When he was brought before the city court this morning to answer the charge, he entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 or serve 20 days in the city jail.

The cases of the City of Ogden against Roosevelt White and P. S. Lyons, arrested recently on a charge of having liquor in their possession, was set for trial next Saturday morning by the city judge during this morning's session of court.

INVITATIONS TO THE BANQUET HAD TO BE LIMITED

In order to avoid considerable misunderstanding, the newspapers have been requested to make clear to their readers that invitations to the governors' banquet which is to be held this evening at the Hermitage hotel, were of the strictest necessity limited to city and county officials, the ministers of religion, newspaper representatives, the officers and directors of the following organizations:

The Weber club, The Publicity bureau, the Merchants Association, the Rotary club and the University club, and that not all the officers of these organizations could be invited because of restrictions on space.

The music at the banquet is to be furnished by the Lillian Thatcher orchestra.

BESSIE BARRISCALL AT UTAH THEATER LAST TIME TODAY

"Tangled Threads," which is offered at the Utah theatre for the last time today, is one of the most delightful stories the screen has shown in some time. It is rich in heart interest and it carries a powerful theme based upon the eternal triangle. But aside from its strong dramatic plot it offers a tremendous appeal in the love of a mother for her child. She goes through everything for him and suffers the misery of losing her husband's affection. To keep John Wayne's love, Margaret attempts to play the same game. But whereas he is interested in the other woman, the wife only uses her admirer to arouse her husband's jealousy. And Margaret fails because her friend proves false and places her in a compromising position. So Wayne obtains a divorce and wins the custody of the boy. The broken hearted wife and mother seeks solace as a nurse in a children's hospital so as to give ex-

Bessie Barriscall and Ben Alexander in "Tangled Threads."

Bessie Barriscall in "Tangled Threads" displays the most wonderful gowns ever seen. The old man off where the jazz is loudest and the cocktails kick the hardest—wife and the kidlet at home—old stuff, sure—but when the "missus" tries to put the old green-eyed monster at work and lets her foot slip, there is a rapid sequence of new situations that keep you guessing and give you thrills, until a smashing climax provides a solution to what appears to be a situation beyond hope. pression for her maternal love. But the mills of the gods grind slowly and they grind exceedingly fine. And the mother-heart is revealed to you, with considerable pathos. "Tangled Threads" is thrilling and absorbing and when you leave the Utah theatre you will say that it is a big picture. Miss Barriscall gives a fine performance and she is capably supported and directed.
